REPORT OF ADJUTANT GENERAL.

STATE OF WASHINGTON,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
OLYMPIA, October 17, 1898.

HON. JOHN R. ROGERS, Governor and Commander-in-Chief:

SIR—I have the honor to submit the following report of the condition and of the operation of the National Guard of Washington, from November 10, 1896, the date of the last report of the Adjutant General, until the present time.

The organization of the guard at date of last report was as follows:

ORGANIZED STRENGTH.

	No. companies, troops and batteries.	Officers, commissioned.	Officers, non-commissioned.	Privates.	Total.
General staff		15			15
Medical corps.....		7			7
Brigade staff		12			12

Totals.....		134	272	900	1,306

Owing to the limited appropriation made by the legislature of 1897, it became necessary to reduce the number of companies receiving financial assistance from the State to six, as follows: Companies B, C, and D, 1st Infantry Regiment; Companies B and D, 1st Infantry Battalion, and Troop B, Cavalry.

The following companies being desirous of remaining in the service volunteered to maintain themselves, if provided with State uniforms and arms: Companies E and H, 1st Infantry Regiment, A, E, F, and C, 1st Infantry Battalion, Troop A, Cavalry, and Battery A, Light Artillery, which was accepted by the Commander-in-chief.

The Guard, as thus constituted, was then divided into the 1st Infantry Battalion with headquarters at Dayton, and the 2d Infantry Battalion with headquarters at New Whatcom.

The following was the organization and stations of the Guard after perfecting this arrangement:

Headquarters National Guard at Seattle.

Headquarters 1st Infantry Battalion at Dayton, comprising Company A of Ellensburg, B of Spokane, D of Waitsburg, E of Pomeroy, and F of Dayton.

Headquarters 2d Infantry Battalion at New Whatcom, comprising Companies B, D, and E of Seattle, C of Tacoma, and H of Vancouver.

Troop B, Cavalry, at Tacoma, and Battery A, Light Artillery, at Spokane, were attached to Brigade Headquarters.

On December 22, 1897, a company of infantry was mustered into the National Guard at Centralia, to be known as Company A, 2d Battalion, the members of said company agreeing to maintain themselves without expense to the State.

On April 22, 1898, a company at New Whatcom was mustered into the National Guard, to be known as Company E, 2d Infantry Battalion, the members thereof agreeing to maintain said company without expense to the State.

The Guard as now constituted comprised twelve companies of infantry, two troops of cavalry and one battery of light artillery, making the aggregate strength of the Guard about nine hundred and fifty officers and men.

Under the call for troops by the President of the United States, on April 23, 1898, this State was asked to furnish one regiment of infantry consisting of twelve companies. The companies of the National Guard were given the preference to volunteer and the following companies, A, B, C, D, and F, 1st Infantry Battalion, and A, B, C, D, and H, 2d Infantry Battalion, Troop A, Cavalry, and Battery A, Light Artillery, were organized into the First Regiment of Washington United States Volunteers, under the command of Colonel John H. Wholley, on the 13th of May, 1898, with forty-six officers and one thousand and fourteen men.

This regiment has been stationed at the Presido, California, since that date and are now on their way to Manila, Phillipine Islands. The roster of said regiment is attached to this report and made a part hereof. By request of the national government the national guard property in use by these troops in this state was given to these volunteers by the state, there being almost sufficient to equip the entire regiment. The value of the property given to the volunteers was about forty thousand dollars ($40,000), which the general government have agreed to reimburse the state for, together with the necessary expense incurred by the state in bringing these troops into rendezvous.

The different national guard organizations volunteering to make up this regiment were disbanded May 17, 1898, and all the members ordered discharged, which has since been done.

On the 25th of May, 1898, the president of the United States again called for additional troops, and on the 20th of June this state was notified that its quota would be one battalion of infantry.

In pursuance of this call the two remaining companies of infantry in the state guard, Company E, 1st Infantry Battalion, at Pomeroy, and Company E of the 2d Infantry Battalion, at New Whatcom, together with two volunteer companies, one from Tacoma and one from Waterville, were on the 15th day of July, 1898, mustered into the service of the United States, under the command of Major E. H. Fox, of Whitman county, the roster of which organization is hereto attached and made a part of this report. This battalion has, since its date of muster, been doing garrison duty at Vancouver barracks, Washington, and with the general reduction ordered in the army is one of the organizations which is now being mustered out of the service. The balance of serviceable military property belonging to this state was turned over to this battalion to the amount of four thousand dollars ($4,000). In pursuance of the Act of Congress passed July 8, 1898, for the reimbursement of states furnishing property to the volunteers and the expenses of bringing them together, I have made an invoice of all the military stores that were furnished to these two different organizations, together with an itemized statement of the expenses incurred by this state in bringing them into rendezvous, and for their subsistence before muster in, and the same is now in the hands of the auditor of the war department for allowance and payment. In this connection I desire to say that I have requested the war department to give this state credit in its account there for the stores so furnished, and, in conformity to said request, I have made requisition upon the ordinance and quartermaster departments of the United States for forty-four thousand dollars ($44,000) worth of clothing, arms and equipments, to replace those given to our troops.

All the moneys paid out by the state in connection with the raising of troops as above stated will, it is expected, be returned to the state treasury by the general government in the near future.

Before passing further it affords me great pleasure to state that in proof of the loyalty of the young men of our state that while we were only called upon to furnish sixteen companies of infantry there were forty-five different voluntary organizations throughout the state who offered their services and vied with each other for the privilege of being selected.

Company E, 1st Infantry, of Pomeroy, and Company E, 2d Infantry, at New Whatcom, having volunteered in the last Infantry Battalion has been disbanded and all the members thereof have been discharged.

All the national guard having volunteered and been mustered into the United States service it became necessary to form a new guard, and in pursuance of your order of July 22, 1898, and in accordance with the state military law, I began the mustering in of companies to fill up the quota of the national guard permitted by the state military code, and have so far mustered in the following organizations:

First Regiment:

- Company A, Tacoma, Captain A. L. DeHuff.
- Company B, Seattle, Captain C. H. Crane.
- Company C, Seattle, Captain John Y. Terry.
- Company E, Tacoma, Captain James H. Dege.
- Company F, Chehalis, Captain C. W. Johnson.
- Company G, Vancouver, Captain W. W. Sparks.

Second Regiment:

- Company A, Spokane, Captain E. W. Lyons.
- Company B, Colfax, Captain Ortis Hamilton.
- Company C, Goldendale, Captain H. C. Phillips.
- Company D, Walla Walla, Captain Albert T. Bedell.
- Company E, Spokane, Captain R. A. Koontz.
- Company F, North Yakima, Captain B. B. Coombs.
- Company G, Garfield, Captain R. W. Roberts.

Light Artillery:

- Battery A, Davenport, Captain H. G. Anderson.

There not being sufficient money in the military fund to sustain these companies for armory rent and incidental expenses, eight of them volunteered to enter the state service and maintain their own organization without expense to the state, pending action by the next legislature. There is no clothing at present with which to uniform any one of these companies, and not sufficient equipments for even one company in the state military depot, and consequently it will be impossible to equip these different companies of the national guard until such time as the United States reimburses the state for the property issued to the volunteers, or until the legislature makes some provision in lieu thereof.

There are at present a great number of applications from different localities in the state asking that a company of the national guard be located at their towns, but in view of the fact that the military law of this state only permits fourteen (14) companies of infantry, two (2) troops of cavalry and one battery of light artillery, it is impossible to comply with these requests.

There is a vast amount of military property on hand in the state depot which has cost the state considerable money. An invoice of this property is attached to this report and made a part thereof. This property should be sold and replaced by property that is serviceable.

The following is a roster with the present stations of the organizations of the guard.

ENCAMPMENTS.

Owing to the indebtedness of the military fund since 1894 there has been no encampment since that date and very wisely so, for the reason that there were no funds to pay the expenses of an encampment for the Guard.

In order to have a thorough, efficient training for the National Guard of the State and to enable its field and regimental officers to manoeuver bodies of troops it is necessary that the Guard should be brought together, at least in regimental formation, once a year for not to exceed ten days. A gathering of this kind is of great service to the National Guardsmen and also one of its most attractive features. It is the strongest incentive in bringing about an efficient citizen soldiery, and aids, to a great extent, in keeping a strong interest in its welfare.

FIELD SERVICE.

There have been no disturbances in the State during the past two years requiring the presence of troops of the Guard. The war with Spain was the means of taking our National Guard entirely into the service of the National Government to repel the foreign foe, and, while the war was of short duration, part of our troops are still doing duty in the service, as heretofore stated in my report.

TARGET PRACTICE.

Probably one of the most important duties of a soldier has been to some extent heretofore seriously neglected and that is the ability to shoot well. One trouble in this matter has been the difficulty of securing suitable target range by companies in the large cities and the want of a special appropriation to supply ammunition sufficient to give every soldier an opportunity to become expert in handling his rifle.

The late unpleasantness with Spain has, I presume, taught us one good lesson and that is, that good marksmanship wins battles, and for that reason I would recommend that a special appropriation be made by the legislature for this particular branch of the service.

HOSPITAL AND SIGNAL CORPS

The hospital and signal corps authorized by the military code has not been organized, for the reason that there has been no appropriation made for that purpose. It is necessary to have a good hospital corps with our troops and in order to have it we must have an appropriation to sustain it, and if we are expected to have a good National Guard we must not forget the most important part of it.

ARMORIES.

In relation to this I cannot do better than to include here the recommendation made by the former Adjutant General F. A. Boutelle, which was as follows:

“The matter of providing suitable armories for the accommodation of the National Guard should be considered as soon as the finances of the State will admit of it. With the exception of Seattle, there is not a town or a city in the state having a building wherein a small battalion can be assembled for instruction or public service. The companies are separated, even in Tacoma and Spokane, and have none of the benefits of competition in their ordinary work. In case of disturbance, the protection of their reserve stores and ammunition would require the presence of too large a percentage of the force.

The companies are obliged to rent such buildings as they can, from their allowance, and cannot afford to make such preparation for the safe keeping of their equipment as is necessary, for the reason that the owners of the buildings are liable to discontinue their occupancy at the end of the first lease. Such has been the recent experience of the Guard in Spokane.”

There is considerable state money tied up in the purchase of these arms, clothing and equipment of different companies and they should be properly cared for.

NAVAL BATTALION.

With a view to the encouragement of the organization of naval battalions in certain states, the United States government makes annual allowances similar to that made to the uniformed militia of the different states. There are, however, few states in the union where a naval battalion would have the facilities for practice, and would be more useful than our own with our great coast line and its commercial interests. In order to secure help from the general government, it is necessary for this state to pass a law establishing a naval militia and giving it a small appropriation in order to get it started, then with the assistance of the allotment from the United States naval department we would have a nucleus that could be added to in years to come.

The appropriation for the maintenance of the guard for the period from March 31, 1897, to March 31, 1899, has, under your direction, been very economically expended and there is now an unexpended balance barely sufficient to carry the establishment the remainder of the time for which the appropriation is made.

I sincerely trust the Guard will meet as generous consideration at the hands of the next legislature as the condition of the finances of the state will admit. The officers of the new Guard who are mustered in are a fine class of men and can be sufficiently trusted to keep down expenses.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

I would respectfully recommend the following changes in the military code:

SECTION 11. The number of companies to be changed from fourteen companies of infantry to twenty-four companies of infantry divided into two regiments of twelve companies each.

This would give the state a very efficient guard and could be equipped and operated at a very moderate expense.

SEC. 15. To strike out the word 2d in the last sentence.

There is no reason why a 1st lieutenant ought not to be detailed as an adjutant. Also that the rank of non-commissioned staff officers should be made different from that of sergeant.

All should have rank from date of appointment.

SEC. 18. That instruments for regimental bands should be furnished by the State, as these bands volunteer their services and receive no compensation from the State, it is wrong to ask them to furnish their own instruments for such purposes.

SEC. 25. There should be a special appropriation for the medical department, it being a special branch of the service, and here also I might state that a provision should be made for the payment of surgeons while on duty examining recruits enlisted in the different companies. This is a professional duty of theirs and they should not be asked to perform this work gratis as it takes up a lot of their time from other professional duties.

SEC. 38. From the numerous duties prescribed for the adjutant general it seems reasonable that a provision should be made for clerical help in his office, as it is almost impossible for one man to perform all the duties called for in this section.

SEC. 41. The law provides that the brigadier general and surgeon general shall be members of the examining board for the examination of officers for appointment or promotion. Also, that officers shall appear before these boards at their own expense. To avoid so unreasonable expense to the officers appointed, who perform their ordinary duties without pay, it is sometimes necessary to send the brigadier general and surgeon general to points of easy access to the officers appointed. It is recommended that the examining boards be appointed by the commander-in-chief, from officers of any corps, provided that, where practicable, they shall be selected from grades superior to that of the officer to be examined, and that one member of the board shall be a medical officer.

SEC. 42. It is recommended that all staff appointments of the different corps shall be made subject to the approval of the commander-in-chief. The requirement that the captain shall have served one year as an officer and three years in the National Guard of this state, should be modified so that in case of retirement for any cause, of a captain of a company, the promotion of his first lieutenant, who possibly has not served one year as an officer or three years in the guard of the state, may be possible.

SEC. 57. Enlistments should be made in triplicate, so as to keep a record at the station of the company, also at regimental headquarters as well as in the adjutant general's office. The system of recruiting, I think, is radically wrong. Under the law applicants are balloted for by all the members of the company, and three adverse ballots shall reject the man; this leaves three men controlling a company in that respect. I would recommend a change in the law so that the officers and non-commissioned officers should form a recruiting board, and the majority vote of the board would accept an applicant. With this system all undesirable men would be eliminated from an organization, and it would be impossible for such men to gain admission into the guard.

SEC. 53. I would recommend a change in this section so that the examining board would have all latitude in the examination of officers. In this way we can tell much better the ability and fitness of the candidate.

SEC. 42. This section should be changed so the regimental and battalion commanders could select their staff officers without any consideration as to their prior service as now required by the law.

SEC. 67. I would recommend that this section be changed so that the discharge of enlisted men be made from this office, so that the records may be complete.

SECS. 77 and 86. I would recommend that the military board be changed so as to consist of the commander-in-chief, state auditor, and the adjutant general as recorder. These officers reside at the capital and are constantly available for this duty.

This arrangement would be a saving to the state and expedite matters in relation to the guard, considerably.

SEC. 161. It should be changed, as the punishments provided therein are too severe altogether; far more so than the strict regular army. To prevent the improper use of national guard equipment, I recommend the enactment of a law making the loaning of military property for any other than purely military purposes a misdemeanor with a fixed penalty.

ESTIMATE FOR ENSUING TWO YEARS.

For incidental expenses of the guard, including armory rents, expenses of the adjutant general's office, officers traveling on duty, courts martial, boards, transportation of supplies, pay for stated parades, ammunition for target practice, repairs of clothing and equipage, etc.....	$60,000
Supply of new clothing,.....	10,000
Copies of rolls from bureau of rebellion records.....	800
For equipment and maintenance of medical and hospital corps.....	2,000

I respectfully ask your special attention to the importance of the appropriation estimated for copies of muster rolls of Indian wars and services of the troops of the state in the war of the rebellion. These copies will cost about eight hundred dollars. Requests for certificates of service are frequent, and I am seldom able to furnish the information asked for. Probably there are many persons in the state who are debarred from pension or reward for faithful service by the absence of these documents. Nearly all the states in the union have this work well advanced, and I earnestly hope the matter may receive the favorable consideration of the legislature.

In closing this report I desire to extend my sincere thanks to your Excellency for the courtesy you have shown in all my relations to you, and in relation to the national guard for the interest you have taken in the reorganization of the same, as well as your efforts in connection with the volunteer troops raised from this state and sent into the service of the United States, also for your endeavor to place the national guard of this state on as firm a footing as any other state institution.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

W. J. CANTON, Adjutant General.
